WEBINAR SERIES

Incorporating News and Media Literacy: Preparing Students for America's Next 250 Years

The series is brought to you by FJCC and the News Literacy Project. Each webinar is one hour long and will include resources, guidance and frameworks from NLP.

About FJCC

The Florida Joint Center for Citizenship at the Lou Frey Institute at the University of Central Florida promotes the development of enlightened, responsible, and actively engaged citizens.

About NLP

The News Literacy Project is a nonpartisan nonprofit building a national movement to ensure that all students are skilled in news literacy before high school graduation, giving them the knowledge and ability to participate in civic society as well-informed, critical thinkers.

SESSION 2

News and Media Literacy and AI

We are dealing with the most challenging information landscape in human history. Digital tools, artificial intelligence and social media make it easy for anyone to spread misinformation and disinformation. The News Literacy Project believes education is the most effective method to address this challenge. Join this session to learn about how AI is impacting the information environment and discover resources you can use with students to help them verify information and spot fakes.

SESSION 3

Civic Responsibility: Putting news literacy into practice

What does it look like to apply news literacy skills as a responsible participant in a democracy? That's the question we investigate to help our students resolve in this webinar. Basic search tips like using country codes, limiting a search to "news" and reviewing different fact-checking organizations will be modeled to show how students can seek credible information.
